Radio station, Stubbenkammer, Ruegen

1. A radio station was observed near Stubbenkemmer. The radio station consisted of two 100 foot steel ribbed masts placed approximately 300 feet apart. The masts supported a double strand aerial which had two leads. A lead came from each strand and ran down to earth from the center of the span of the strand (see diagram below).
2. Approximately 100 yards to the west of this signal station is a hotel, Koenigsstuhl, now occupied by approximately 30 members of the Seepolizei. The hotel and its grounds are guarded by a sentry.
3. Approximately 300 yards to the south-east of the hotel, on the Viktoria-Sicht is a 30 foot steel ribbed mast. At the top of the mast are a fog horn and a signal lamp. An armed Seepolizei sentry and an Alsatian dog were observed on guard at this installation.

Russian Naval Detachment in Saseenitz

4. During the period from 29 October to 9 November, the Hafenstrasse, Sasnitz, was visited on three successive days, and approximately 150 Russian naval enlisted men were observed on parade in front of requisitioned houses in this street.
5. On 2 November 1951, twelve Russian marines marched from the Hafenstrasse to the harbor, boarded a motor boat and left in the direction of Stubbenkammer.
6. On 3 November 1951, it was observed that a truck [redacted] [redacted] was parked in the Hafenstrasse. The driver, who was standing by the truck, wore a marine uniform.

Amfien Marines were engaged in salvage operations
